

Study_abroad.com

Short:

Study_abroad is an integrated team of graduated students, designers, developers and software engineers, aiming to solve problems may happen when you study abroad.

Long:

Study_abroad collects international students around the world to provide detailed information for future international students as well as migraters. Our team focuses on the whole process of study abroad, including application of your dream college, boarding plane, academic help and living and eating recommendations, etc. We will try our best to provide best service and our core value is that making communication becomes easy, making abroad life becomes safety and make study process becomes happy. Our past abroad life could guarantee your future life abroad.

Personas:

1. Current International student

They may face academic problems or life hinders

2. Future international student

They usually feel confused before they leave their country.

3. Potential migraters

More local information could help them make a reasonable choice.

Comps:

